

Writing at Badgerbrook Primary School

At Badgerbrook Primary School, we believe that writing is a vital skill that empowers pupils to express themselves, communicate effectively, and engage with the world around them. Our writing curriculum is designed to help children become confident, capable writers who understand how to adapt their writing for different purposes and audiences. Whether crafting a narrative, composing a report, or persuading a reader, pupils learn to make thoughtful choices in vocabulary, structure, and tone. Rooted in our Ethic of Excellence, we aim to instil pride in presentation, clarity in communication, and creativity in composition.

Teaching and Learning

Writing is taught through a carefully sequenced curriculum that builds on prior knowledge and develops key skills over time. We use the I do, we do, you do model to support pupils in understanding how to plan, draft, edit, and publish their work. Each unit begins with immersion in high-quality examples and model texts, followed by explicit teaching of grammar, punctuation, and stylistic features. Pupils are given regular opportunities to write for real audiences and meaningful purposes, helping them to see writing as a powerful tool for expression and impact. Writing is often linked to wider curriculum themes, allowing children to apply their skills across subjects. Teachers adapt lessons to meet the needs of all learners, ensuring challenge and support for every pupil.

Assessment and Feedback

Assessment in writing is ongoing and purposeful. Teachers use a combination of formative and summative approaches to monitor progress and inform planning. Pupils receive regular feedback that helps them understand their strengths and next steps, and they are encouraged to reflect on and improve their work. Writing is assessed against age-related expectations, with a focus on composition, transcription, and the ability to write for different audiences and purposes. Parents are kept informed of their child's progress through termly updates and opportunities to celebrate their achievements.

Impact

The impact of our writing curriculum is seen in pupils who write with confidence, accuracy, and imagination. They understand how to tailor their writing to suit different contexts and take pride in producing high-quality work. Pupils demonstrate strong progress in both the technical and creative aspects of writing, and their work reflects a growing command of language, structure, and purpose. Through our commitment to excellence, challenge, and adaptation, we ensure that every child leaves Badgerbrook as a capable, thoughtful writer, ready to succeed in the next stage of their education and beyond.
